VIETNAM

Victoria Hoi An, Vietnam

On a pristine white-sand beach on the outskirts of the UNESCO World Heritage Site of Hoi An in central Vietnam, Victoria Hoi An Beach Resort & Spa is a warm, restful retreat replicating a traditional fishing village with small streets, water ponds and village houses with clay-tiled roofs. The historic sea port of Hoi An is uniquely preserved as a 15th-century trading post on the ancient silk route with the Cham temple ruins at My Son, the historic capital of Vietnam's ancient Champa civilization and the former Imperial capital of Hue nearby. Guests can enjoy sport activities such as wake boarding, parasailing, kayaking, windsurfing, Hobie cats, diving and early morning Tai Chi lessons or a Vietnamese cooking class. Two speedboats for waterskiing and mountain bikes are available. A new excursion option is a two-night motorcycle sidecar adventure to Vietnam's remote border with Laos, traveling over 400 kilometers rarely visited by tourists. In all seasons you can catch sea bass and Ca Chai – a flat head fish – with flounder in summer.
